Dear Parents

Your Time to Shine Day – Friday 4th November

My apologies that I forgot to include this in the newsletter last week, but on Friday 4th November we are taking part in a 'Your Time to Shine' day. This is an initiative linked to road safety and the importance of wearing clothing you can be seen in now that the evenings are getting darker. Our Junior Road Safety Officers spoke to all the children in assemblies before half term so I hope your children will be able to tell you more about it!

The idea is that on November 4th, your children are invited to wear something bright to school so that everyone can see the sorts of clothing that can be worn to ensure we can be easily seen whilst out walking or cycling on these darker evenings. Friday 4th November is a non-uniform day so that the children can wear something bright to school.

The Time to Shine Day applies to children in all year groups, infants and juniors. If your child does not have anything bright to wear then colourful clothes will be fine. The importance of wearing clothes that can be seen is the message we are trying to reinforce with the children, so colourful and/or bright is fine.

Unlike other non-uniform days, there is no need to send in any donation but if your child does not intend to wear anything bright or colourful he/she should come to school in their school uniform.

Yours sincerely

Mrs C.A. Clayton
